New York Stock Market

New York, June 21 .- Extreme dulless and narrowness of movement were market. The undertone was generally final hour, when prices manifested a tendency to sag, but operations were so light and professional as to render the net result practically negligible. The total output was only about 193,000 shares, which almost established a low shares, which almost established a low record for any recent full day. The local market was probably affected in a measure by conditions abroad, particularly in London, where all things financial had given way to the coronation festivities. Other European exthanges were featureless, aside from some weakness in Parls and Berlin. Home news was rather meagre and somewind mixed. The crop situation continued to be the centre of interest. The sovernment forecast for the Middle West during the next two days suggests a continuance of fair and warm weather conditions in South Dakota and Montana on of the negative events of the day was the declaration of the regular semi-annual dividend of Lehigh Valley common, despite some recent forebodings. The stock recovered part of its iscaline of the last few days, and Reading, which has no small interest in Lehigh Valley, stiffened perceptibly. In the steel industry the event of the law was a cut of $2 per ton in the price of the reproducts by one of the subsideration of the United States Steel Cornection.
